Sponsoring

Job description

The Formula Student has developed in the recent years to a very complex and professional competition. It's no wonder that the teams cannot handle the project without industry support. The support and acquisition of existing or new partners thus provides the basis for all work that we do in the workshop. It starts with the design software and goes all the way to the finished car, which should win victories at competitions. In sponsoring you will get to know contacts from companies all over the world and gain unique insight into the automotive industry.

What will be your tasks?

- Finding new partners
- Keeping in touch with contacts of our existing partners
- Collaboration on cross-group tasks (such as testing, manufacturing)
- Participation in group and team meetings

What are our requirements?

- Preferably studying industrial engineering
- Excellent communication skills, openness
- Excellent German and English skills
- Independent, structured and organized way of working
- Willingness and dedication to the project
